Welcome to TKMCE: Golden Jubilee Celebration

Dear Alumni,

It gives me a great pleasure to inform you that TKMCE will be completing 50 years of its exciting and eventful existence in 2008. To mark this momentous occasion we plan to celebrate the Golden Jubilee year starting from March 2007.

Fifty years is a significant landmark for any institution and the Golden Jubilee provides an occasion to celebrate our achievements and to embark on new initiatives. It is a matter of great pride for the TKMCE family that today we are recognized as one of the leading institutions in India and abroad. This has been possible through the dedicated efforts of our management, faculty and remarkable achievements of our alumni in the fields of Science and Technology, Entrepreneurship and Management all over the globe. We have achieved a large number of successes, and yet have many more milestones to cross. The challenge before us is to maintain our educational excellence and provide a boost to our research programmes in the emerging areas of technological developments.

We have planned several initiatives during Golden Jubilee year. We plan to invite the President of India as the Chief Guest for the inauguration of Golden Jubilee Celebration in March 2007. We are planning to invite Chancellor/Vice Chancellors of Universities, Veterans from Science & Technology, Industries & Commerce, Social/Cultural fields, General Education, Journalism and Ministers from State Government to visit us during the Golden Jubilee year and interact with the TKMCE

Thangal Kunju Musaliar College of Engineering Golden Jubilee Celebration - 1958 -2008

Golden Jubilee - an affair to remember

Dear Friends,

Thanks primarily to the great contributions made by our alumni; we can boast of a brand name that is globally recognized. A vibrant campus, complementing rigorous academics with very enjoyable social, cultural, and sports activities, has been the primary foundation of nurturing the young talent. While the global brand essentially recognizes the TKMCE system as a whole, your institute has managed to carve out a special niche for itself. You will all be proud to note that, in the last years, in the TKMCE admissions through state entrance top performers chose to join TKMCE. A similar choice pattern is exhibited by incoming aspirants for our Post Graduate courses.

To be the first amongst equals, especially at high table of the state technical education system, is an extraordinary privilege. To sustain such a position is a still greater task. To become one of the top globally recognized institutes would require truly gigantic efforts. Your institute is committed to take the challenge head on.

This century will pose new challenges. India has finally discovered itself and the nation would now have far greater expectations from its premiere institutions than were contemplated in the past. New technologies based on pure and applied research, and innovative ways in which these are deployed to solve social problems, are going to be demanded of us. The industry and Government will now expect us to come up with new techno-business models to exploit scientific and technical research to become future engines of wealth generation.

It is amidst this exciting scenario, that we shall celebrate our Golden Jubilee. This window gives us an unprecedented opportunity to strengthen existing associations, build new ones, and lay the foundations for future partnerships. This will only be possible through involvement and active support from you all. You have always demonstrated your commitment by participating to many important activities and initiatives of your Alma mater. But this is going to be a very special occasion in our lives, and thus I would expect a little more than usual support from all of you. Please help by giving a little extra from your heart, mind, time and effort in the events and initiatives being planned. I invite you all for the global alumni meet scheduled for 3days along with Golden Jubilee Celebration inauguration. Let us all join to make our beloved institute, the great TKMCE, the greatest! Let us make our Golden Jubilee, an affair to be remembered by all future generations.

With Best wishes,

Dr. M.C. Philipose, Principal, TKMCE

General Convener, Golden Jubilee Committee.
